

Abosolutely not! Do not weaken the "Telephone Consumer Protection Act"! I am a State and Federal taxpayor, a life-long resident of Wisconsin, and an American citizen, and I have, at the very least, the right to deter unwanted phone calls to my home. I am totally disgusted with any "business" or financial entity assuming it's perfectly acceptable to bombard my personal/family life with unwanted advertising via my personal telephone!

If the individuals responsible for this Act, now give in to business entities and change it, they are making a grave mistake.

I am, without a doubt, against weakening the "Telephone Consumer Protection Act" in any way, shape, or form.
